Did you know?

ABOUT COMMUNION BY INTINCTION?

Intinction is the practice of receiving Holy Communion by dipping the Host into the Chalice and consuming it. The Church has always said that it is not permitted for a person to do this him or herself. (Redemption is Sacramentum, 104). There are at least two reasons for this:

Firstly, there is a danger that some of the Precious Blood may be spilt or drip onto the floor. And secondly, the sign value of drinking from the common cup is lessened. "Drinking from the cup" has a rich Scriptural symbolism connected with undergoing suffering, a symbol Jesus himself used in reference to his passion and death. When we receive the Blood of Christ, we too are invited to share in his sacrifice, and 'drink his cup'.

In rare situations, intinction is allowed, but only when the priest or minister dips the Host into the Chalice and places it on the communicant's tongue. If you are receiving the Blood of Christ at Communion time, please do not attempt to instinct the Host, but take the chalice in your hands and take a small sip.

PARISH LIBRARY

This week's book |

Carlo Acutis A Millennial In Paradise*
by Fr Will Conquer

Bookcase 6 Bookshelf 3 in Library

A Millennial in Paradise tells the inspiring true story of Carlo Acutis, a teenage student who balanced his love for technology with a deep commitment to his Catholic faith. Known for his computer skills and interest in video games, Carlo also created a website documenting Eucharistic miracles before passing away from leukaemia at age 15. This book highlights how he dealt with peer pressure, stayed true to his values, and used his talents to serve others. His life is a powerful reminder that young people today can make a real difference and live out their faith in everyday life.

BEING CATHOLIC

Our faith transforms the way we live and love in this world. Being Catholic is not simply attending the Eucharist on a Sunday and saying the occasional prayer. They are but a part, a stepping stone, to realising that the love of God is the basis for all in our lives, and we strive to have that love guide the way we love and treat other people.

How do we see the beauty and goodness?

- ~ stop and reflect on the natural world God has created
- ~ consider how blessed you are in your life
- ~ take time to appreciate and thank your family and friends
- ~ think of three good things that happened today and give thanks for that
- ~ maintain a positive attitude – trials will pass smile

Being Catholic means that we believe in the goodness and beauty of this world. In spite of all the difficulties and challenges, the sins and failures that humanity faces, we believe that God's Spirit is working in and through creation to bring about the Kingdom of God.
